

As a member,
you're better off.

There are many reasons to be in IG Metall.

Als Mitglied hat man's besser.

IG Metall: Together for a better life.

Do you want to stand up for fair incomes, good working conditions and more justice? We do too.

Good living is good work.

We – IG Metall: With over 2.1 million members, we are consistently committed to good work. That is because work is a defining element of our lives. For it to make a good life possible, it needs the creative power of a strong community.

Collective agreements set standards

Do you want regulated conditions and a right to them?

Our collective agreements are our greatest achievement. They regulate the working conditions such as the amount of income, the weekly working hours, holiday entitlement and bonuses, the right to be taken on after training, the right to further training and the possibility of being able to flexibly enter retirement. They apply in the metal and electrical industry, in the iron and steel industry, in the textile and clothing, wood and plastics industries, in the ITC industry and in the automotive and electrical trades. And they not only work in companies that are bound by collective bargaining agreements, but also set standards for the entire industry.

Legal protection § 27 of the IG Metall statute

Do you want to be well advised and represented?

We answer all your questions about the world of work. When it comes to correct classification, checking employment contracts or references or, in the worst case, dismissals, we are there to help you in word and deed. In the event of a dispute, as a member you can take advantage of our legal advice. We represent you out of court, and if necessary, of course also in court in all cases of labour law – and also in social law! We will also represent you, for example, in dealings with the employment agency, health insurance companies, pension insurance or professional associations.

Support §§ 23 and 24 of the IG Metall statute

Do you want to help shape things and do this together with others?

We support you in operational disputes: Our IG Metall works councils are well trained, the IG Metall representative on site knows the situation in the companies and your commitment is expressly asked for. IG Metall is indispensable when it comes to setting up works councils and in disputes concerning collective bargaining agreements. If there is a strike, IG Metall also supports its members financially in accordance with the statutes.

Other services §§ 26, 28, 30 of the IG Metall statute

Is solidarity for you something that shouldn't end at the factory gate?

We are also there for you in the event of accidents that happen outside work. Our leisure accident insurance is valid worldwide and regardless of whether you have an accident at home, in the garden or while travelling: Whether by car, motorbike or mountain bike – the insurance covers a hospital stay of 48 hours or more.

Extraordinary personal emergencies require fast, uncomplicated financial support. Of course, IG Metall also helps in the event of catastrophes that threaten our existence, such as floods and natural disasters.

And should the worst come to the worst, a death, we also support our members or their surviving dependants in accordance with the statute.
